

Which vaccines are most effective against COVID-19?

We're going to need a range of vaccines, and in due course we'll know which vaccines are most effective for different ages, and populations.

The most important thing is to get people vaccinated, as this will help to bring the virus under control and prevent people from becoming severely ill.

